TERMS AND CONDITIONS

All Iris orders amounting to $2.00 or more will be shipped prepaid to any point in the United States. Iris orders of less than $2.00 must include 25 cents for postage. Foreign shipments not prepaid.

We send all Peonies by express, transportation charges collect. This enables us to be liberal with extras and large plants. However, all customers will receive good value.

Terms: Cash with order. Payment should be made by check or postal money order. All offers subject to prior sale; prices may be changed without notice.

GUARANTEE

We Guarantee all stock to be true to name, of first class size and quality, free from diseases and pests, and to reach you in live and healthy condition. We cannot guarantee that plants will live and grow in your garden under conditions over which we have no control.

We take every precaution to prevent mistakes in filling orders, but if any mistakes should occur, we will gladly make adjustment; however, we will in no case be liable for an amount greater than the purchase price of the stock.

IRIS CULTURE

Iris are not particular as to soil, but the bearded varieties in general prefer an alkaline rather than an acid soil. They need plenty of sunshine and good drainage and are able to withstand severe drought if well established. Beardless and crested sorts, including the Siberians and Spurias, do best in an acid soil with plenty of moisture, also some kinds need partial shade. Bearded Irises should be planted with the tops of the rhizomes level with the top of the ground, except in the case of late fall planting when they should be more deeply covered to prevent heaving.

TIME TO PLANT

Bearded Irises may be transplanted any time in the spring, summer or fall, but we strongly recommend fall planting for the South and Middle West where summers are usually hot and dry. Further North the summer months are the best time for transplanting. Unless we are otherwise instructed we will assume that our customers want immediate shipment of their orders. Prompt shipment will be made except when digging is delayed by rain or other causes over which we have no control. A few of the very newest varieties of which our stocks are limited will not be delivered before August. Beardless Irises will be shipped in the fall or early spring.

WAR AND OUR PLANT BUSINESS

Robert, the junior and most important member of our firm, has gone to the army and all the young men of the country are in the Army, Navy or necessary war production. Increased cost of labor, advertising, paper, boxes, packing and postage makes it impossible to dig, clean, pack and mail only $1.00 collections without losing money, hence we will try to solve this problem by giving more quality and less quantity. Now we can discard and plow under more of the older and poorer sorts and give more valuable time to better and newer sorts, and this gives our customers better value.

PRICES—If any of our early season prices are out of line just figure that we will give you good value on every order. Why give valuable space, land and labor to grow old cheap varieties? Put the same money in a smaller number of higher quality and have increased satisfaction.

Hill Iris Introductions will be found listed inside the back cover at greatly reduced prices. Their reception and increasing popularity are a great source of gratification.

We lead in Fall Blooming Irises that continue their well deserved gain in popularity. Favorable seasons have brought an abundance of fall bloom to many delighted gardeners. In the South the Fall Bloomers are practically everblooming.

Scarcity and increased costs of supplies and labor have brought commercial growers many problems, but we expect to be able to continue to supply good quality plants and in many cases at prices substantially lower than last year's. The difficulty of securing experienced workers may cause slight delays in shipment during the peak of the shipping season. Customers are urged to send their orders early and to indicate second choice varieties in case we are sold out of some items. However substitutions will not be made without authorization.

ELMOHR (Loomis 42)—Given an H. M. in 1942 ..... $17.00

A seedling of probably the most popular and widely distributed Iris—Wm. Mohr. All these seedlings have fine firm, extraordinary substance and quality. On page 15 of the last Oct. Bulletin, K. D. Smith, regional V. P. of the American Iris Society, says, "I consider this the outstanding Iris of the year. It is by far the best of the Wm. Mohr seedlings, different in coloring, being more on the red side." Mrs. F. H. Cleetton also called it by far the best of the Wm. Mohr seedlings. "Rich in color, charming in pattern, and delightfully gay and jaunty in form, a large flower with standards slightly ruffled and a bit revolute, and falls that are rounding and tapering just a trifle at the lower edge, and set so debonairly that they add much to the charm of the flower."

F. B. Casebeer, Editor of our Bulletin, calls it the most impressive new Iris of the year.

The following description is taken from the 1942 catalog of our good friend, Robert Schreiner. "The newest hybrid of Wm. Mohr and the last word in color and distinctiveness in this race of plant. An exquisite shade of rich reddish mulberry, incredibly glossy and lustrous. The color seems to smoulder as if some interior source of light were seeping out of imprisonment. There is unforgettable distinction in Wm. Mohr's rounded form and unique manner of venations and this is inherited in the flower in a rich color pattern. To our taste it is the most attractively colored of the Wm. Mohr seedlings. It is so distinctive that it merits introduction because of the color alone. Its derivation makes it all the more significant. Hybridizers will be interested to know it sets seed. Its foliage is clean and unmarred, a rich shade of pale green, a healthy vigorous plant that grows as easily as the regular garden Iris with us."

To all amateur hybridists—We will furnish you a strong plant each of Elmoehr-Ormohr, an outstanding Sass origination, and one of our own best for $20.00. Get these this season and prepare to get outstanding results in your own seedlings.

FALL BLOOMING IRISES

We are proud to take some credit for popularizing Fall Blooming Irises, an important new branch of the Iris family. Several years experience in handling fall bloomers has shown conclusively that they will produce two crops of bloom per year over a wide area of the country. They are at their best in the South where they furnish an almost continuous succession of bloom. In fact a Southern customer reports at least one bloom open every day in the year from one of our $1 collections. However, with care and attention fall bloom can be had as far North as New England and some of the Northern states. Last fall we had a fine show with many hundreds of blooms, beginning in September and lasting until freezing weather in November. The fall bloomers are of unquestioned hardiness even in the North and are of value for their color to the intermediate season. New varieties are adding to the color range and bringing increased size and height. Good growing conditions and adequate moisture throughout the growing season produce the rapid growth necessary for maturing the second crop of bloom. Frequent transplanting is advisable as crowded plants do not have a chance to rebloom.

Delivery of Peonies will begin in September and continue until freezing weather. All orders will be acknowledged and filled in the order in which they are received.

Peonies do best in rich soil. Use fertilizer or well rotted manure if your soil needs it, but do not allow fertilizer to come in direct contact with the roots. # HILL IRIS INTRODUCTIONS

It was with some hesitation that we offered a modest list of Hill seedlings last year. The response has been such that we feel that we were entirely justified in introducing them. Reports indicate that Flora Campbell bloomed well in several widely separated parts of the country and was well rated. Other varieties also performed well in different gardens and Melanie gave the tallest and finest bloom in one of Oklahoma's show gardens.

These seedlings are the result of several years work, and they have been selected with the idea of offering only sorts whose performance has been well tested. We are glad to be able to vouch for their vigor and hardiness. A period of testing also allows time for a seedling to increase, so that it may be introduced at a lower price than would be possible where it is offered the first year after blooming.

We have some very promising seedling Fall Blooming Irises which we had planned to introduce this year, but we have decided not to present them as yet as thorough testing is necessary to establish the reliability of fall bloomers. Last fall was a favorable one for fall bloom and we had fine bloom on our seedlings as well as on named varieties. It is interesting to note that for the first time we were able to secure a few seeds from last year's fall bloom.

Special prices on complete collections of the following introductions will be quoted on request.

We are proud of the fact that Flora Campbell and Melanie were included in Robert Schreiner's list of the best 100 for 1942.

FLORA CAMPBELL—The neat, well rounded and modestly extended falls are really glowing in intense warm tones of red-brown and peach. The standards are a little lighter in tone with a more hazy coloring. The flower possesses unmistakable style and quality. Honorable Mention 1940 ..... $2.00

JAYHAWK—A good bright red-purple that is a favorite with garden visitors. Flowers are large and well proportioned ..... $0.25

KANSAS BOUQUET—A very free flowering plicata of good size, white heavily marked with blue, often has 5 to 7 blooms open on one stalk ..... $1.00

KANSAS INGLESIDE—A warm toned red self introduced last year on its merits as a spring bloomer, it has now proven to be a good fall bloomer. The fall bloom comes rather late, so it is best adapted to the South for fall blooms. $1.00

KANSAS SUNRISE—A bright toned variegata blend displaying the good qualities of its parents, King Tut and King Midas, stylish in form and of good substance ..... $1.00

GOLDEN COCKEREL (Whiting-Hill, 1940)—A bright yellow self selected from among the many fine seedlings in the Whiting garden, fine form ..... $1.50

LADY DAINTY—A silvery toned white that seems to fill a definite need in a hardy, good quality white that will bloom freely every season ..... $0.50

LOVELY LADY—Well branched with large blooms of splendid proportions, opens a very pale sky blue and turns cool white ..... $0.50

MELANIE (No. 1 pink seedling)—A tall rather deep pink that grows up to 45 inches and often has five blooms open at one time. It has less of the blue and orchid tones found in most pinks. The color tone is on the order of that found in the falls of Rameses ..... $3.00
